

Title: Why I think their strategy might change and why they are royally Rekt.

Author: Mother_Bed_1823

Created 2021-12-30 06:54:45 UTC

Permalink: /r/GME/comments/rrv6zq/why_i_think_their_strategy_might_change_and_why/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/rrv6zq/why_i_think_their_strategy_might_change_and_why/

My blood has been purple for weeks probably due to an overdose of crayons and watching funky rings in the digital world so obviously, none of what I write is financial advice. I wouldn't take any from myself anyway.

Since the sneeze back in January the ■ have been pushing down the price of our beloved GME. Trying to disappoint and raise fear among current investors and potential side liners. Their tactic has helped keep lots of the FOMO out.

While the intentional silence of GameStop and RC hasn't helped light up their Crime for the people watching from the outside. After all, most of our diamond hands were forged watching the ticker go up just like the crime rate in Shitadel & Co. does and then crumble all the way down in a matter of minutes again and again and again. Beside that, it was the rock-solid DD that has opened lots of our eyes to the nonexistent foundation of the markets and the perpetual crime in circulation.

This is what the people outside of Reddit (GameStop Subs) still don't have. That and the Hedgies constant screwery with our stonk is what still keeps the FOMO out. That is what still gives the Hedgies another day to survive and the hope that maybe tomorrow all GME investors/apes would disappear. So that their non-ending self-destructive nightmare would finally end.

But now and in the coming weeks, the game is changing. The well-planned and executed play of RC and GameStop is coming to light. The fear and uncertainty about the future of GameStop will all be gone once the marketplace and whatever In heavens RC has in the bag for us comes out.

That's when many bystanders or maybe apes distracted by sticky floors that would hear of it, would want to be a part of it. That's when people realise that GameStop was the right play all the way from the beginning. That's also when they realize that, that's Amazon or Facebook or Apple (investment wise) 15 years ago.

That's when FOMO kicks in. And at the current dirt-cheap price of the Stonk. It's deadly for the Hedgies once GameStop's plans and future become clear. Mix this good news with a nice ticker movement. And you get yourself a Wombo Combo Hedgie Wedgie destroyer.

That's what makes me think it's Game-over for them and these might be the last days we see the price of GME that low. I can't tell how high they can manipulate the price to try and keep FOMO out while still not decimating their books but I think they will not keep it as low as it was in the past few weeks. All before the news becomes louder and clearer and FOMO rushes in while the price is still this low.

Sooner or later they are Rekt. Be it when the float is DRsed or when FOMO kicks in when the plans and future become clear for everyone or when the next quarters' numbers reflect the bomb GameStop is.

Buy Hold DRS Book.

TL;DR

Hedgies are screwed anyway. IMO they have scared a big portion of the FOMO by constantly manipulating the price down and showing instability. That's also while GameStop didn't show any clear plans of revolutionizing itself for the public. (RC said it himself in the annual meeting). Now with the plan and future showing up. FOMO will hit hard especially when the price is so low at the moment. So the hedgies won't keep it that low but also could risk it blowing it up their faces if it still induces FOMO. Price won't be as low as it was and hedgies soon■.