I know all the dd, been xxx hodler since january and all i see is that whatever move gamestop does - price gets crushed anyway. Im honest, i feel a bit betrayed about this financial system. What is more disgusting is that everybody knows about it, nobody does anything. Atleast it seems so. And what comes to our big leader RC - i think that yes 1. Dont fuck up because investors are pumping money in but 2. Dont take too long, i myself are acctually tired of hodling and eating noodles.

This is just true opinion. I would have wanted RC to come up and say that we are under attack because of hfs shorting our stock and doing illegal stuff and therefore we do something to get this sorted out.

As much as i believe, as much as i like noodles, i feel somewhere in my stomache that RC might not be so cool guy as everybody thinks him to be. Its still business, nothing personal. But i, investor, dont feel currently that our gamestop board has done anything for us. Its just us, hodling the line and hoping that something happen.

Sorry guys, i dont paperhand, but i felt that i want to get this out of myself...
