I felt the need to ask this question, there's no anti sentiment to DR any share of any stock. However, with GME specifically I want to know if anyone knows how quickly someone would be able to sell a share on computershare. Personally, I plan to sell shares of my GME holdings. What I want to know is if I can do that instantly with DRS'd shares or what the process even is since it isn't in a brokerage account. I think this is the only thing that is stopping me from a full DRS.

*Not any sort of financial advice, I am actually retarded
