

Title: Fidelity folks: Did you know that you can DRS to Computershare without having to talk to 2 people? When the robot asks you why you called, say "Equity Trading"; that will get you to the right place. Saying anything about transferring shares will get you routed to the wrong department.

I'm not the author of the following post. The original OP is u/lawdog7

He cannot post here due to karma requirements.

As the title says:

Fidelity folks: Did you know that you can DRS to Computershare without having to talk to 2 people? When the robot asks you why you called, say "Equity Trading"; that will get you to the right place. Saying anything about transferring shares will get you routed to the wrong department.

Edit 01: there are some comments that saying "Stock certificates" is a better solution

Edit 02: The OP had his original idea stolen and I helped him to post to SS, Jungle and here. No idea if there are any karma requirements ■
