Was just doing my own random DD on my favorite stock as I do every morning and happened across something not so hidden, but hadn't seen mentioned here yet. Probably because it is so overshadowed by the 170,000+ OTM $20 or less GME puts that everyone has been talking about, but there's also 10,000+ currently OTM $100 puts that are expiring this week, which is no small chunk. Just a thought maybe the criminals were trying to do what they could to bump those bad boys ITM this week for a bit of a gain on 1,000,000+ shares. Will be another pretty good hit if those all expire worthless. Let's keep her above $100 this week before blast off! Thank you for coming to my Ted Talk.
