

Title: How're you all feeling out there? CNBC seems to think you're "disappointed." They're just going to keep trying, aren't they?

Author: LunarPayload

Created 2022-04-01 02:53:31 UTC

Permalink: /r/GME/comments/ttgk7j/howre_you_all_feeling_out_there_cnbc_seems_to/

Url: <https://i.redd.it/44lk952q0uq81.jpg>

www.cnbc.com

Shares of GameStop have been on a tear this month, up 35%, as enthusiastic retail investors stood by their meme favorite. The stock got a boost earlier this month when chairman Ryan Cohen bought an additional 100,000 shares, bringing the activist investor's ownership to 11.9%.

Still, investors and analysts hoping for a fundamental turnaround at GameStop have been disappointed so far, as the company revealed little detail about its e-commerce transformation.

In this article

GME +28.02 (+16.82%)  