I'm a stupid person, I don't understand Greek like Gamma, delta or theta for GME.

But I understand that if somebody buys a call, another person sells it...and it's a big boy game because you must be smart, have resources and so on.

as long as my call is NOT in the money, the other side somehow IS in the money. Many calls in the last 12 months were not in the money, that's called max pain and feeding this game means wasting my resources and nerves. They have more from both.

I also know I have shares in CS and this ones are no longer in the game.

I BUY, HOLD and DRS...I don't want to play with the bullies anymore.

I want to end the game because I already won, and I don't want to filibuster the game to eternity
