Twas the night before the splividend,
When all through the sub
Not a ape was reading,
Not one click of a mouse;
The DD was hung near the computers with flair.
In hopes that their new share would soon be there.

The apes were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of lambos and tendies danced in their heads.
And DFV in his headband, Ryan in his cap
Had just settled down for a 4D chess match.

When out of the sub there rose such a clatter,
They sprang alive to see what was the matter.
Away to the computer they flew like a flash.
Signed in the computer and got to reddit at last.

To the moon they sang, shouted and cheered,
Let's have one last party together here.
For after today,
The stonk would never be the same.
Just appreciate the ride, and remember how far we've came!

Merry Splividend Eve
