Funny thing is people who believe that the markets are corrupt enough to end in this MOASS situation believe that the same players that caused it will honour the contracts and follow the rules during MOASS. It's insane that anyone would risk their shares with any broker when DRS is available.

Real Gmerican

The one slightly embarrassing thing for apes is this to be honest. It's like the one thing that we can do to get our tendies and move on, and we all should have been doing this anyways lol, and a huge % just doesn't. Got em by the balls and it's all we need....

Brokers are good for one thing and it's day trading.
