Question about DRS

I'm currently in the initial stages of DRSing my GME shares. I understand that it may take up to 6 weeks or something until I can access my shares on ComputerShare. I plan to sell a couple shares if the price jumps high enough, and it is my understanding that you can't sell the DRSed shares until they're fully processed and you can log into your CS account. I know it's very intuitive but I just need confirmation. In that case I'll keep a share or two in original account so I don't miss out!

Also for context, I recently transferred my shares from WealthSimple to BMO and requested DRS. Any tips and advice would be great!!!

Thank you in advance :)
