So I've been trying to wrinkle up by reading all the fabulous DD and it got me thinking about RC's previous role at Chewy. I've read about how he turned the company around and I've seen what could happen for GameStop moving forward and it's exciting.

Then my brain decided to go backwards and look at $CHWY over the last year and even recently and it almost seems like SHFs decided to start tanking $CHWY when $GME started moving up.

Maybe they are related? Could be that they're trying to screw him any anything he was/is associated with? I'm definitely not wrinkled-brain enough to state anything as factual or even financial advice. Just trying to look at a bigger picture from a different angle.
