Cant post on SS but:

Can someone explain why are we so obsessed with XRT?

They only hold 17586 shares of GME, which isn't significant. GME's weight is only 0.79% of XRT.

For example another computer retailing company which is in the same category as GME, XRT is holding 96584 shares, which puts GME as one of the lowest holdings in XRT for the sector.
