I know it's hard to do nothing while waiting for something. It gets boring and we look for things to signal what's coming or what's not.

In all seriousness.. just HODL.

Go outside. Ride a bike. Hug your kids.

I just bought a telescope for my family so I'm SUPER pumped about that.

Don't forget to enjoy life while waiting for great things to happen. If you spend every second analyzing everything, it will cause more FUD than the media could ever hope for.

Watch a movie.

Smoke a bowl.

Stay zen.

I love this sub.
