I finally pulled the metaphorical trigger and asked DEGIRO to FOP transfer my GME shares while paying the hefty fee of 100€.

As of now I DRSD X shares and was constantly contemplating how to get my shares from DEGIRO to CS..

Now XX shares from DEGIRO are on the way to IBKR and then directly to CS. They estimated it would take 10 days rather than the weeks I have seen with other people who did this.

Let's see where this goes, and for all europoors with DEGIRO accounts. I can personally say that it feels way better to know that your shares are yours only. To know that you will not get screwed by your broker when the time is there. Especially DEGIRO has some nasty rules in their terms of agreement.

So get that purple circle and remember it's a small step for men but a large step for the retail investors that need to get a fair chance!
