Just another thought, and hopefully a reminder, that DRS numbers WILL skyrocket after the splividend! There is already a noticable uptick in Computershare cock ring -posts, and people pointing out the parabolic change in DRS trimmed average on Computershared.net

I've got a decent amount of shares still left at 3 different brokers, one more than the others, but it hasn't been big enough pile of golden tickets to go through the trouble of 2-broker transfer, only to then have them transferred to Computershare.

However AFTER the split I'm hellbent on DRS'ing 9/10 of my remaining shares left in the brokers, and I bet I'm not the only one. Thus I think the real furry to DRS your remaining GameStop stonks is right after the split, but I'm not an advisor giving financial advice, so who knows :3

Byeeee!
