1 - What caused the recent AH pump? Media leads us to believe it was some BS article from barrons about gme going into nft's, which we know was a lame excuse for the run

2 - The recent data on superstonk suggests the shorters are balls deep on XRT shorting and using that for their FTD's. If that's the case, when they cover, wont it be XRT that moves rather than the parts inside the ETF?
