Jul. 2022 – GameStop Corp. – Open Orders – Stock Split (4-for-1)

GameStop Corp. (NYSE: GME) will begin trading on a 4-for-1 split basis on Friday, July 22, 2022.

In preparation for the stock split, all affected "Good 'til" Date (GTD) equity and option orders for GME will be cancelled prior to Friday, July 22.

If you enter a new limit order after market close on Thursday, July 21, please be mindful that the symbol GME will be priced on a 4-for-1 basis on Friday morning.

Information for GameStop Corp.:

We anticipate that account positions will be updated to reflect the split shares prior to the end of day on Tuesday, July 26, 2022. Your equity value and available margin are not affected, a temporary holding representing your additional shares will be placed in your account. We expect that this will take place prior to market open on Friday, July 22, and will be in place until the anticipated pay date July 26, 2022.

Please note that temporary holdings cannot be sold through WebBroker. Should you wish to place a sell order based on your temporary holdings, please log into the TD App and choose Contact Us or call 1-800-465-1234, Monday to Friday, to speak to an Investment Representative.
