I have two years. Two years for the price of a single share of GME to go north of $200. I understand a share split will decrease the price per share and I saw this bet as a no brainer. If we go above $200 per share, I get another 1/2 share free. If we don't go above $200 per share, I get another person now interested in the stock.

So my plea to the hedgies is to stop the corruption long enough for GME to go to $200 before the split so my half share is worth more shares post split! My computershare share account thanks you in advance.

Be kind. Buy, Hold, DRS if you like the stock.
