I would first like to preface this with the fact that I am a smooth brained ape just drawing with my crayons on the GME chart and this is not financial advice.

As I was drawing with my blue crayons, I decided to make a triangle and boy does it look tasty! As I drew this triangle, I noticed that its right hand point converged in the not to distant future (Green arrow on right side of attached image). I decided to hover over this date and low and behold, found that it crosses on June 9th (6/9 for the American apes out there - Red rectangle in top left of attached image).

Now like I have mentioned, I am just a simple crayon farming ape drawing with my crops for the fun of it, and thought, "Hey, other apes will think this is funny too, cause ha, funny sex number".

No dates, just up. Buy, Hold, DRS, and laugh at funny sex number!
