

Title: Great explanation of recent events surrounding RC and his recent trade. Full credit to /u/bongoissomewhatnifty
Author: disoriented_llama
Created 2022-08-19 18:19:37 UTC
Permalink: /r/TheGloryHodl/comments/wskzsb/great_explanation_of_recent_events_surrounding_rc/
Url: <https://www.reddit.com/gallery/ws2juq>

Linked Post Content:

Rc then sends a letter that says "we're gonna sell off some of your valuable shit. You can raise the capital necessary to clear your shitty financials and give yourself a second life. I don't have the time to guide you into reinventing yourself because gme takes up all my time, but I am gonna solve your immediate pressing problems and take the noose off your head."

Then in March he and bbby announce an insider agreement. He gets some board seats, including a 2/3 majority in charge of deciding whether to spin off this asset he wants. Agreement says bbby gets any profits from a potential sale if he sells within 6 months of the agreement.

5 months later, he comes out and says "I'm selling all my shares (which means bbby keeps the profit) and bbby says "Ryan Cohen is a standup dude. We're in full agreement with him, and think his dick is divine. In other, probably related news, we've secured capital required to fix our shitty financials and will be making an official announcement soon (earnings is in like a week).

Msm: it's a pump and dump!!!

RC about to sue basically every media outlet for

 Vote

 16

 Share

Msm: it's a pump and dump!!!

RC about to sue basically every media outlet for defamation. We obviously still have to wait on the bbby announcement, but all implications point to rc being a man of his word and securing funding for them to get out of financial trouble, and keeping his nose clean from being involved in a short squeeze, and getting this Baby brand he wants, and anybody invested in bbby gets a squeeze when they simultaneously announce and the ftds start coming home to roost (shares outstanding have been trading like 2-3x a day for the past few weeks, ftds are spiking hard).

The implication seems pretty clear, I don't know why everybody is jumping to pump and dump or insane swap theories.

If bbby doesn't announce something soon, than he fucked his shareholders and its not a good thing. But I have enough confidence that I'm buying more.

And as per usual, profits from side trades will get shoveled into my GME holdings as they're supposed to.

 Vote

 16

 Share

This swap claim is not backed by evidence. It reads like a bunch of hopium from retards hoping that RC didn't do a bad thing and rugpull his peeps, because if he did it once, he might do it to GME.

And what's particularly strange about this is that even the most precursory glance at the "this was a pump and dump" story the media is pumping and holes start to appear. First and most obviously, the media has been shitting on gme and rc for the past year and a half, why is it suddenly trustworthy now? Have you seen how much bullshit it's spewed, and now you're ready to forget that?

But let's look at it from what facts we have:

Rc sends bbby a letter saying "y'all fucking suck. Literal garbage monsters. You're running this company into the ground and your financials are fucked. Also, I own this company now and I'm going to fix this."

Rc then sends a letter that says "we're gonna sell off some of your valuable shit. You can raise the capital necessary to clear your shitty financials" 