(wow I butchered the grammar in that title!)

Even though the annual meeting will probably be held in June, the record date for ownership tends to occur significantly before. For example, last year's meeting was held on 6/9 but the eligibility record date was 4/15. They don't tend to announce the record date until after the fact (last year it was announced a week later on 4/22).

>Only stockholders of record as of the close of business on April 15, 2021 (the "record date") are entitled to vote at the annual meeting and any postponement or adjournment thereof.

If you want extra votes to help ensure the stock split/dividend proposal passes, you'll want to buy additional shares ASAP. if you want to ensure your votes count, you'll need to DRS those shares before the record date.

Don't forget the T+2 settlement time. Purchases and DRS need to be completed 2 trading days before the record date to ensure settlement in time.
