DRSing GME is pain in the ass I know, but it is definitely worth it. But, there's a way to make it simple.

For those who don't know, you can skip the entire process of a Deposit Request on IBKR, depositing and paying a small banking fee, waiting for the money to be accepted, then waiting for the money to arrive, then waiting for it to settle once you convert it, then sending a buy market order, then waiting for the shares to settle T+3 and then paying a fee again for the DRS and waiting another T+1/4 for the shares to arrive in CS.

It's been almost a year since DRS has started and it's only now when I realized how SIMPLE it is to DRS directly via Wise.

All you have to do is register on Wise, deposit your money and then on CS share 2 personal banking numbers (from Wise). And that's it. ComputerShare then takes the money off of your account (the number you have specified) and does everything for you. Life couldn't be easier!
