Ok if this is the only line you're gonna read from the transcript then let this be it.

"The first year of our transformation was about starting to turn GameStop into a customer-obsessed technology company"

Here's what went through my head after reading that: "Oh cool, yeah that's what I keep reading about. Customer obsessed tech company nice."

Read it again but from the perspective of someone who isn't a fan...."hmm GameStop is calling itself a "tech-company now.....ok"

They are saying it loud and clear plain as day. They are the "the next blank" company. We just stumbled across the perfect storm of investing in the market while admittedly being retarded.

We truly can stay retarded longer than you can stay solvent after all, I guess. Huh
