Stew beef's podcast twitter only has 57k followers, and the stock market podcast has been liked 1178 times as of the time of this post. Let's show it some love as well as others (LB) who are using their voices and platform to help bring attention to this market mess! Send your likes and retweets - the man's podcast Twitter is literally back to back posts on all this.

I'm also betting the more likes they see the more they know that this is a true movement for change and substantiates the level of apes lurking. This is the grassroots advocacy that u/dlauer is talking about!
