Is_self: False

This just started today for me on the mobile (iPad) app. In every sub, every reply from an OP is locked to me for comment, but apparently not for some others. It's only the OP, not anyone else's replies which are locked. This problem doesn't occur on my iPhone, nor does it appear to be happening on the web. This is happening in all subs, whether I have joined them or not.

And to make this even more of a head-scratcher, it's not happening on the account of someone else in my house. If this is an intentional Reddit thing, what could cause it?
