This isn't the first time he used a location and "thumbs up emoji" to tag an important location to the GameStop location he was at:

On that same date GameStop's lead NFT engineer tweeted this, during this time is when NFT staff was being moved to Miami to ramp up product development.. of probably something big.

Fucking GAME TIME BABY.

PleasrDAO stated they want it to accessible to the world, pending RZA approval.

Personal speculation:

I'd assume they show the world reluctant to the tech of NFTs the power of them.

Album cannot be monetized...legally.

BUT if they fractionalize it into an NFT and allow listening access via NFT verification it would slap the world in the face who say "theres no use case for NFTs"

Exclusive access to it, verified by immutable NFTs..while never even monetizing it!!

Issuing it as an NFT dividend would be a cherry on top.

CHEERS, WU TANG FOREVER.
