Sure, Gamestop is initiating a Stock Split via Dividends in the coming month. Yes, yes, they've got the NFT Platform, and the Blockchain Technology along with the FinTech infrastructure provided by Loopring. Yes, they've got their own version of Ready Player One being developed with Immutable X at the helm... but what are you guys leaving out?

Their commercial Brand & Trade Partners! What of LIGMA? What of MGGA? Microsoft who has tentatively acquired Activision+Blizzard. Apple... who is investing heavily into Layer2, Web3, and VR. And finally Google... who has invested more than $200,000,000 into Blockchain Tech and Crypto Payment Processors.

What do Apple, Google, and Gamestop have in common? Stock Splits. What does Microsoft have to do to complete their merger? Locate their shares and close out all derivative trades on Stocks for Microsoft and Activision+Blizzard. TRILLIONS of USD in Positions will have to be closed, and then the Derivatives (Options, Naked Shorts,) on these Companies!

Now let me ask you the chef's kiss of rhetorical question. Who is the listed Transfer Agent for all of these MEGOLITHIC BEHEMOTH examples of publically traded Corporations?

Do you see it? Do you see the bigger picture, Apes? Ryan Cohen and Gamestop did not start this fight, but they will be the nail in HEDGIE FUKS coffins. THE GAME, STOPS, HERE.
