Hello. I have drsed my gme shares few months ago through ibkr so i have existint computershare account. I want to drs new batch of shares but it does not have option to type account number. I read that it automatically puts shares in your existing CS account. What worries me is i can't change Tax identification number. It is how grey but i just can't type anything in. when i proceed without changing before confirmation of transfer it show that tax id number is 9999 . What that means? will shares go to my account or? thanks for help and sorry for bad english
