...and everyone in it. Yes that mean you...and me. We can all take a running fuck at a rolling donut.

$19 upwards delta on $SPY in just 7 hours, the day that what looks like WWII breaks out? Electric cars and movie theatres leading the pack? Of course. Makes perfect sense!

Fuck every douchebag investment banker pumping this shit so they can close out a few ticks better and run for the hills. Empty your bags, fuckers. Whales are pumping the memes while pulling capital from all the darker corners. (Not advice or a prediction, just observation, likely flawed ■ ■)

Too bad I didn't see it coming.

Yesterday melted 20% of my account, mainly $SPY calls, today another 30% on $SPY and $PLTR puts, $F calls. Another 20% on $BeeTeeCee reversal. (Which now seems to move in lockstep with $SPY? WTF?) Holding $UVXY cost an additional 15%.

-85% in two days. I almost feel like lighting up the rest on $GME calls just so I have control over how I go down.

At least I have decent life insurance coverage so my family isn't completely screwed.

Only green on the board were the handful of good ol' $GME shares that I keep in CS and my TFSA and don't consider even part of the portfolio. ■■■■ ■■

Hopefully this turmoil is just enough to light the financial ■ and ends quickly with a minimum of casualties.
