On 7/27 RC tweeted "The best time to be alive in human history is now"

Recently I was listening to "Rich Dad, Poor Dad" by Robert T. Kiyosaki and heard something interesting.

"So why bother developing your financial IQ? No one can answer that but you. Yet, I can tell you why I myself do it. I do it BECAUSE IT IS THE MOST EXCITING TIME TO BE ALIVE. I'd rather be WELCOMING change than dreading change. I'd rather be EXCITED ABOUT MAKING MILLIONS than worrying about not getting a raise. This period we are in now is a most exiting time, UNPRECEDENTED in our world's history. Generations from now, people will look back at this period of time and remark at what an exciting era it must have been. It was the DEATH OF THE OLD and BIRTH OF THE NEW. It was full of turmoil and it was exciting. So why bother developing your financial IQ? Because if you do, YOU WILL PROSPER greatly. And if you don't, this period of time will be a frightening one. It will be a time of watching people MOVE BOLDLY forward while others cling to decaying life rings."

Pure speculation but my tits are jak'd. To me, this sounds like the story of the GME ape. The battle we endure daily.
