It is quite amazing isn't it. Meme stocks like GME initially took off because you wanted to help the little guys that were getting shorted by the big boys. Since then, all I read on meme forums is how you want to drive lambo's and get rich. Well guess what, you are no different than Wallstreet. The only difference is that Wallstreet shorted these companies because their fundamentals are not inline with what is expected. They are pros, you guys are leeches! Expect you leech of each other. Reality going to hit you this year no doubt about it!
