But I have no basis for this, just my opinion. Wow, what sensitivity though... I guess when that many funds have "located" and want the same shares, that creates an issue...lmao But somewhere, you know they're doing it... some hedgefuk is going to screw his whole industry and get out...hell he'll probably close and flip long.... not financial advice, i just like GME. screw all HFs.

come on, close a winner and go to dinner HFs, you'll still have your house on the Island if you close....
