Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your inquiry on Sunday. As promised, I reached out to Corporate Action this morning to get clarifying information regarding the GameStop (GME) stock split. For processing purposes, this is classified as a "stock split." However, for tax purposes, this is subject to change. GameStop will decide later in the year how they want to classify this. They may choose to classify this as a "dividend," for tax purposes. We will get more information as we move closer to the end of the year when we receive reporting information for 1099 purposes. I will be delighted to follow up with you once I hear any news regarding the matter.

I know you have a busy day ahead of you so I hope this message finds you well. You have my email so please feel free to reach out to me if you have any other concerns. Thank you for being the best part of Schwab, we appreciate your business and look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
