Some of you know me. I'm Llama, and I cultivate and gather information and research and everything else I can get my hands on to showcase the nightmare that is our "free" markets. There was DEFINITELY a DD flair on this sub because I sort by DD flair to gather information. Why is it gone from the sort by Flair options? Just because there is a DD library doesn't mean there aren't new things unfolding and being researched every day. I find this highly disturbing. Mods? Gamestop is an evolving situation with many moving parts. Most people don't even have the full picture yet and new people are learning every day.
