Smooth brained Jan'21 ape here. I know there is mixed sentiment regarding options on the stonk sub, but it's a fact options chains cause some kind of gama ramp that resulted in the sneeze of Jan 21'.

I never got into options because i'm just a lowely (Newely) 1XX peasant. Also, I don't like options personally as I believe the market is rigged and dates are unreliable. Options are tied to dates and I feel like it's too much of a gamble. But, for the peeps on WSB I feel like an options contract will now cost 1/4th of what it used too and they will be playing more options as a result.

Could this be a key factor that leads to MOASS?
