Could buying gme through the 15th put the hurt on brokers? Purchases made through the 21st are entitled to the Splividend shares. By buying through Computershare during this period selling brokers will be forced to buy and deliver the Div shares on any IOU/synthetics sold at the very worst time for them. If a large chunk are bought on 7/19's batch buy it'll throw a lil extra rocket fuel on the post split price. Just a extra side of chaos.

Am I onto something?
