So, after months and months of waiting for letters and responding, I was finally able to open a Computershare account and transfer my stock from IBKR.

Now, I'm facing a new challenge. When the price is right for me and I want to sell, how do I do it as European? Sure, there is the Sell button, but when I try to go through the process, I only get the "USD check" option.

The problem is, no bank in my country accepts checks as they are truly a rarity in Europe in general.

Has anybody found out a workaround/different way to get money from Computershare?
