Holding low x shares of GME at Fidelity still. Splividend shares show up. Aug 2 I contact them via chat to DRS the now xx shares as one does.. no issues in chat, I'm issued a number. Aug 3, what looks like a purchase chows up in my transactions/account activity but with no dollars attached to it. (The exact number of shares I wanted to move) Today I contact via chat again, ask about my DRS transfer.. loooooong time goes by while he's "checking on something". Eventually he comes back and says "takes 3-5 business days" (last time was 2, but whatever). I ask about the +xx transaction shadowing, and am told it's the DRS shares.

If that's the case, why does it look exactly like the purchases? And maybe I'm wrong, I dunno. I'm not a cat or a financial advisor.. but it seems to me maybe Fidelity didn't/doesn't have my shares? Will follow up again on Monday and see what's what.
