Okay hear me out GME brethren. And please correct or debunk me
If this is wrong.

219,000+ put options expiring OTM (out of the money) this is not including all other PUT options just between $0.50 - $5.00 there are thousands more at higher strikes.

100 shares per option

$100 \times 219,000 = 21,900,000$ shares total

$102.67 per share currently

$$102.67 \times 21,900,000 = $2,248,473,000$

This could be monumental. This could be MOASS.

DO NOT get too excited or emotional if this does start MOASS because we all need to keep calm and hold as long as we can to really put the pressure on these funds.

Hold for everyone that could get wiped out in this market drop not just for yourself. Be a hand reaching out to those who will be affected most!

Even if it isn't tomorrow, maintain your resolve! We are Apes and Apes are strongest together!
