If they are doing the same cycles over and over how many gme shares are shorted? Cause I think that the predictions made could be a droplet in an ocean...

Naked Shorters are abusers who do not see that they are in the wrong. Even when they are caught they will continue to say the same. The market likes to be treated like that. The market has taken enough of a beating and it need an escape.

And...

I've seen it posted elsewhere about us breaking the market... We did not start this dumpster ■ and there were many more pouring gas on it before anyone noticed thank you DFV... If anything buying and holding is like having an extinguisher!

Just a wee tidbit.. I believe that puts and calls are great and can highlight good/bad companies but abusing that for your own gain and lying is a crime and has to stop.

Yes this is a rant. I'm not zen... I'm fucking angry!
