I've been holding 50 shares of GME in my TFSA with Interactive Brokers, I want to DRS but I am scared of missing the pop and not having access to my shares.

First question, is my broker even allowed to lend out my shares if they are held in a TFSA (non-margin account)?

Second question, is it worth it to DRS at this point? I'm worried that I will miss out on the event that shall not be named while my shares are in the process of being transferred.
