I am shopping hard to find that connection of malicious intent regarding JCP & BCG. My mom worked for JCP for 17 years. I am beyond pissed at what we have uncovered about BCG in 2 short months. I believe Penneys has been tangled with BCG for many years, but have been too busy to really go after it. Here's more in the meantime. (There's some Macy's too, and what appears to be a conflict-of-interest with JCP and Simon Property Group.)

Hoguets left the Boston Consulting Group in 1982. I cannot find anything further yet. Smarter apes feel free to please jump in.

Moved up in rank until 1997, becoming SVP / CFO, lasting until 2018.

"She had reported to Ron Tysoe, vice chairman/real estate and finance at Federated."

Federated emerged from bankruptcy in 1992, and then ate Macys in 1994.

Macy's and Penneys have had some weird rivalry for as long I can remember (though the media and Wall St. would have you believe that Macy's was always the "superior store.", because, well, like "pricing and stuff". I call bullshit. I always thought the 2 of them were weirdly tangled in some way. What incest Macy's and Penneys have/had (and now with both having a little BCG family secret) is now a curiosity to me, and I'll be digging some more.

RONALD TYSOE

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/ronald-tysoe-7abab177/>

Seems to love real estate.

CHAIRMAN OF JCPENNEYS since 2013. (Wow, I believe a little bit after Bill Ackman showed, and +/- about same time as George Soros decided to nibble on 8% of shares.)

How the fucking hell is this guy still Chairman after what happened from 2012-2020 !!! Ohhh, I'm so stupid. Please read below.

Tysoe has been Director at Taubman for 14 years. Taubman is OWNED BY SIMON PROPERTY GROUP.

Was JCPenney the victim of a long-game set-up, for the REIT? (attorney Sussberg's "PropCo")

And was Jill Soltau appointed, because she was an inept patsy with a "good ole American-girl look", who would do as instructed, get her dough, and move on?

<http://www.taubman.com/>

SIMON "conveniently" ended up with the lean-meat part of the JCPenney bankruptcy of 2020, with little attention paid by Bankruptcy Judge Jones to other processes or potentially interested parties, in the liquidating/restructuring of JCP; the most FAIR option being an open public auction, of all physical real estate, inventory, intellectual properties. (No accusations to the most honorable judge here. I'm just some working class dumbfuck from ghetto-surburbia Houston. What do I know...)

Check out StihlsawRule commentary about Judge Jones. He had the judge pegged before every move made.

Soooo, yeahhhh... WOW, no conflict-of-interest here folks, from Tysoe. Move along now.

TERRY LUNDGREN

CEO of MACY's/FEDERATED from 2003 - 2018. Tysoe and then Hoguet both reporting to him.

Also part of the New York Fed.

<https://www8.gsb.columbia.edu/cbs-directory/detail/tl2835>

"He is a former board member of Kraft Foods Inc., the Federal Reserve Bank of New York"

Also a board member at Proctor and Gamble. (How are all these top execs always so smart, and skilled, and time-free, that they can devote so much energy & wisdom to being on the Boards of 2, 3, 5, 10 companies at once; especially when the companies are sprawled across so many differing industries. It's admirable s/)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Terry_Lundgren

"He also served twice (from 2010 to 2013 and again from 2017 to 2018) as chairman of the National Retail Federation, the retail industry's primary trade association.[^[23]](https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Terry_Lundgren#cite_note-23) "

No chance to abuse that power. Nope. /s

Seems like a complete power-hungry personality.

LATE EDIT: I have just discovered that Simon Property Group is trying to buy Kohls for $8 billion. This should be fascinating.

That's it for today, tards. I'm going back to being angry, and prepping more dry powder for a tasty <$100
