Trying to figure out if Fidelity gives Confirmation Numbers in sequence or just random.

I attempted to DRS XXX GME shares this past Monday, but followed up today because no movement. Something went wrong on the transfer so they re-did it this a.m. (they said it was just a timing thing because my shares had a settlement date for Monday. It is a plausible reason, so that's not the question). There was a difference of nearly THREE MILLION between Monday's conf # and today's. Can anybody help me figure this out?

Monday's conf # started with 2010. Thursday/today's conf # started with 2013.

Wouldn't it be exciting if 3 Million Apes have DRSD in the past 4 days just from Fidelity?
