

```
Is_self: False
```

[illegible]

Empathy is really important.. Only when our clever brain and our human heart work together in harmony can we achieve our full potential.

It's easy to become hopeless. So people must have hope: the human brain, the resilience of nature, the energy of young people and the sort of inspiration that you see from so many hundreds of people who tackle tasks that are impossible and never give up and succeed.

The awful thing is we don't respect each other.

We could change the world tomorrow if all the millions of people around the world acted the way they believe.

|||||

Have a wonderful week ahead! I mean that most sincerely ■

1000000