Hey guys, back with another short story DD.■ Even though this week GME has been in the red I feel optimistic that this might be the beginning of the MOASS.■ We always look at the VW dip before rip as an example but in this story I look back to my first squeeze for inspiration, Tesla, and draw some comparisons to that company itself and what gamestop is doing with the NFT marketplace. I also include what news media did to both of them to slander the companies plans. After the DD heavy story on ETF shorts last week I thought I'd dial it back down with something light and informative. Hopefully grab some Tesla heads attention to our situation.■ Like usual, most of the music/art is from me, and I hope the video gives you some joy this Saturday.■
