We've all seen the Reddit posts about the option of direct registration of shares through Computershare (DRS/direct registration system).

Personally I'm convinced that this is a good idea, but the ultimate confirmation that this is a good idea would be a signal from the SHF's through their propaganda channels.

If DRS is indeed a threat to SHF's I'm expecting a FUD campaign to kick off any day now. CNBC/Motley/Marketwatch headlines like "Dangers of transferring shares to transfer agents.", "Why DRS is a bad idea". WSB/Superstonk headlines like "DRS is FUD". You get the picture.

If anybody spots anything in the wild hinting to this it would be cool to get some links as the ultimate confirmation that getting real shares through DRS is a good idea.

Edit 1: uyyy getting downvotes. \*extra stoked\*

**Edit 2: there it is.** Completely predictable 28 days after this post. Citadel sponsored FUD on Marketwatch about DRS: [https://www.marketwatch.com/story/the-reddit-crowd-has-found-a-new-tactic-in-the-war-against-wall-street-cutting-brokers-out-altogether-11634250783?mod=mw\_quote\_news](https://www.marketwatch.com/story/the-reddit-crowd-has-found-a-new-tactic-in-the-war-against-wall-street-cutting-brokers-out-altogether-11634250783?mod=mw\_quote\_news)

* Implying that DRS is completely retarded. **check.** Quote:

>However, the trend into direct registration—in some ways, the equivalent of a Gen Xer's late-teen child finding their Sony DiscMan hidden in a an old briefcase and deciding that this was the pinnacle of music technology—

* Use Marketwatch to openly pump 'n dump AMC and the other meme stocks but NOT GME. **check****

* Mention GME (which this all started with) only once at the very end of the article in a negative cherry picked context. check

* Framing of retail investors as an online group trying to manipulate the share price. **check** (the term "apes" = 100% shill FUD IMO, don't fucking call me an ape, k thnx)

* Don't forget, DRSing is SUPER RISKY GUYS!!1!!! (sarcasm):

>Importantly, locking up shares via direct registration might put pressure on short sellers, but it also exposes Apes to steep losses if the stock goes into free fall.

To me this obvious SHF criminal propaganda is basically directly communicating to me that DRS'ing my shares is an absolute must if I don't want to get screwed over during a squeeze. It's also yet another confirmation that the GME shorts are terrified and still short GME (and long pump 'n dumping AMC).
