Due to the required word count: Remember kids, always ask for a confirmation number, even if you don't care, don't want one, or don't write it down, it will at least make the organization think you have it and possibly do less fuckery. Yelp, that about probably sums it up to meet the word count. And until next time remember....

Don't ever stick something in your mouth, you wouldn't stick up your ass, becasue evenually, it will pass through there.
