Just had two ideas I have to share. While I like so many apes will do so much good with my post revolution tendies I will have plenty left over sooo...I say apes plan these two annual events. #1 Apes all buy Lambos (for non car people the lambo emblem is a bull) and we plan a cross country "Bull Run" rally. We can stop by the then decommissioned Shitadel hq and end in Vegas or wherever. All along the way apes will stop at hospitals and schools and shelters and anywhere people need help and apes will donate. This would get tons of media attention even if we paid for it and maybe inspire others to give. We can even take all the kenny, bulgarian boy and jimbo memes and make liveries for the lambos■■■■ #2 All apes fly to Pamplona and actually run with the bulls. While there apes find ways to help and donate. At that point we are international and actually changing the world. Of course we take the livery memes and put them on shirts for the running and tomato throwing. And yes we can rent lambos while we are there ■GME can change the world ♥■
