

Title: Getting some hate at Superstonk, anyone have some better feedback?

Author: Rabbadabbadingdong

Created 2021-09-15 04:11:31 UTC

Permalink: /r/ratioatblessons/comments/poisry/getting_some_hate_at_superstonk_anyone_have_some/

Url: /r/Superstonk/comments/poi6z6/back_to_the_basket_swaps_and_another_set/

Is_self: False

What up Apes, hope all is well in Tendieland. I didn't want to post this because "ITS ABOUT ANOTHER STONK" but I've considered otherwise due to possibly having more eyes and more research done.

After all the recent DD about the baskets, (great work u/criand and all the others) I decided to do more digging.

With most research there was a common thing.

FAILING BRICK AND MORTAR. Now because of Covid it made it that much easier for them to short these companies out of existence because half of them were closed, so when the earning reports come out they obviously have terrible earnings, then the SHF do what they do best, right after earnings Plummet the stock in after hours or pre-market.

What I also found is that Citadel has been hiring top class computer geeks (aren't we all) that are a crucial part of the algo trading. I'd put money on it that they have coded to drop the price after earnings regardless if they are good or not. But again because of Covid most earnings are terrible. Except one... you guessed it. Cant stop won't stop Kenny doesn't know how to stop the algos, they've gotten so intricate because of those computer nerds, they're afraid if they touch it the whole system will explode.

Now this part is where I want I want to have a heart to heart with Apes. At this point we are aware that most of our buy orders get routed to the dark pool, and have little to any effect to the actual stock price, this is ■ vs ■ and apes don't swim. But don't think for a second holding doesn't help. Us holding is what makes whales be able to fight this fight.

This is the "fud" part. Time your buys strategically, don't buy just because it's a Thursday and you think your 1 share is going to spark the MOASS. Learn the patterns and watch the support and resistance levels.

The other important part here is as of now Kenny has it under control, he has GME figured out. I'm not saying he will get out of this, I'm saying he's fucked. But if we really want to increase the speed of the MOASS we have to put pressure on the other "basket stocks"
Again HOLDING GME IS FUCKING IMPORTANT, AND BUYING GME STRATEGICALLY IS EXTRA IMPORTANT. Can't stress this enough.

The last part here is where I'll add some of my research.

On my phone so can't upload pictures, but we are all computer nerds so you can easily find these on Yahoo Finance, plus all the other stocks in the basket.

I'll add the 2 I found recently and there are plenty more, again its all in the other DD so watch those on Yahoo and you'll start to figure out the algo patterns.

First let's look at David's Tea - DTEA. This is a brick and mortar tea shop that always had a heavy short interest and a lot of brick and mortar. Well guess what Apes they had their earnings call today.. and you guessed it, price drop in the after hours, I combed through the earnings report and they blame covid for closing stores and declining revenue. The President just stepped down and guess who got voted in... his fucking WIFE corrupt much? Anyways go back through the last year and everytime GME skyrocketed so did DAVID'S TEA which was fucking closed the whole year!! Their fairly close to becoming bankrupt so watch them carefully.

The next one is Tanger Factory Outlets- SKT. They operate strip malls in the US and Canada. Talk about a lot of real estate for Kenny and Jeffy to take over. This one is a bit different though, I think this is where the battle is, and it seems like 20$ is the breaking point, they've been slowly increasing all year again with no real revenue to show.

Now I'm not telling anyone to buy this, I'm telling you to put these and all the others mentioned in the swaps on your radar.

Regardless slow MOASS or MOASS soon keep holding and BUYING STRATEGICALLY.

I know some of us are fatigued, some are holders from 2020, some from January sneeze and all the others along the way. But what you're doing matters, let's not forget that. There are also other ways to peek your interest instead of staring at a ticker all day or reading the same DD told in 4 different ways. Start to learn the algos and swaps, so that when Mr. Cohen fixes this corrupt system our tendies will make a lot more tendies.

Tldr. Easy read don't be lazy, might get a wrinkle.

Links available upon request.

Obligatory ■■■■■■