I was initially skeptical about apes pilling into GME's marketplace with low effort memes and other mediocre content, but I agree that the sub shouldn't be gatekeeping who submits what. Ebay is a massively successful online marketplace where anyone can sell just about anything. Sure, there's a lot of junk on ebay, but with the right filters in place it doesn't stop you from finding what you're looking for. Same goes for GME's marketplace. Once it's up and running GME's marketplace could be as big or even bigger than ebay! Are you hyped yet? LFG! ■■■
